

Welcome to the 105th State Convention

Terry Detrick, President

Welcome to the 105th Annual AFR Convention! “New Directions” is the theme of our two-day convention. The theme reflects not only the challenges that we as a company and organization have faced since the last convention but also new opportunities to create a roadmap of stabilization and future growth.

As your President, I work for you, the membership and policyholders, and I am honored to do so. This is ‘your’ American Farmers and Ranchers Mutual Insurance Company and ‘your’ OFU COOP Organization and I feel very strongly about that.

‘You’ will be determining our long-term direction during the business session for American Farmers & Ranchers on Friday afternoon with financial reports, officer reports, by-laws proposals and consideration of legislative policy.

Friday evening activities will consist of the Live PAC Auction featuring the winner of the Livestock Marketing Association’s “World Championship” Auctioneer contest. The Auction will be followed by a short talk by each candidate as they are introduced.

Delegates are able to vote upon arrival but may want to wait before casting their vote until candidates speak on Friday evening. Voting booths will be open as registration opens on Friday and until 10 p.m. Friday night—also from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. on Saturday.

The Saturday sessions are devoted to educational speakers on state and national legislative issues, research and education, grain and beef prices projections, agriculture mediation, farm to school and oilseeds opportunities, and mineral and wind leasing.

We conclude our activities on Saturday evening at the banquet by honoring long-time member and leader George W. Stone, hearing from Lt. Governor Jari Askins and enjoying the entertaining Oklahoma country music star Ty England.

I hope you will participate in the silent auction which runs until noon on Saturday while you enjoy the convention and take away something that you can apply at home or in your business. And, thank you for being an AFR member and insured!

Biographies

Dr. Kim Anderson

Raised on a dairy and grain farm in Muskogee, Kim Anderson joined the agricultural economics faculty at Oklahoma State University in 1982 as a professor and crop marketing specialist. He has more than 1,100 publications and journal articles related to grain marketing, has discussed grain marketing on over 200 agricultural-related television programs, over 1,600 radio programs, and has made over 100 presentations at industry and professional meetings. Anderson has directed research and grain marketing programs in the USSR and Turkey and has received over $1 million in research grants. He is well known for his column, "Wheat Scoops," published in the Southwest Farm Press, and for his "Soap Box" and "Market Analysis" features on his Web site. He has won numerous awards for outstanding teaching and extension programs, and currently holds the title of Professor and Charles A. Breedlove Professor in Agribusiness in the Agricultural Economics Department, OSU.

Lt. Governor Jari Askins

Jari Askins was sworn in as Oklahoma's 15th Lieutenant Governor in 2007, giving her the rare distinction of being involved in public service in all three branches of government. Askins received her BA in Journalism from the University of Oklahoma and earned a Juris Doctorate from the OU College of Law. Askins served as Special District Judge for the District Court of Stephens County for eight years. In 1991, the Governor appointed her to the Pardon and Parole Board, which elected her as its first woman Chairman. Askins was elected to the Oklahoma House of Representatives in 1994 from District 50 (Stephens, Comanche and Cotton Counties) and served for twelve years. In her last term she earned the position of Democratic House Leader, becoming the first woman to lead a caucus in the Oklahoma Legislature. As Lieutenant Governor, Askins is President of the State Senate. She also serves on numerous boards and commissions and chairs the Oklahoma Tourism and Recreation Commission and the Oklahoma Film and Music Advisory Commission.

Biographies

Andrea Braeutigam, J.D., LL.M.

Andrea is the program manager of the Oklahoma Agriculture Mediation Program based in Stillwater. Her credentials include Attorney-Mediator. B.A., University of Washington (1998), J.D. cum laude, Oklahoma City University School of Law (2002), LL.M. Dispute Resolution, University of Missouri-Columbia (2005). She has mediated and facilitated civil, commercial, and agricultural matters across Oklahoma. She is a member of the ABA Section of Dispute Resolution, Co-Chairs the Oklahoma Bar Section of Dispute Resolution and is a board member of the Oklahoma Academy for State Goals.

Representative Dale DeWitt

Representative Dale DeWitt represents District 38 which includes Garfield, Grant, Kay, Noble and Osage counties. He is the chairman of the Natural Resources and Regulatory Services Committee and is also in charge of the Subcommittees in Agriculture, Environment, Tourism and Wildlife as well as Rural Development. Before coming to the Legislature, he was an agriculture education instructor for many years as well as being a farmer-rancher. He holds degrees from both Northern Oklahoma College and Oklahoma State University and has been honored by numerous organizations for his leadership on agriculture and rural issues.

Ty England

There's a breath of fresh country air blowing in from the plains of Oklahoma where Ty England is Alive & Well and Livin' the Dream and making the best music of his career. Ty England, a singer and guitar player who hit the concert road with Garth Brooks, became an instant fan favorite. After several years on Garth's history-making tour, Ty signed with RCA and made two albums, Ty England and Two Ways to Fall. His signature top-5 hit, "Should've Asked Her Faster" remains a hotly requested number, while Entertainment Weekly called his debut album "a remarkably poised performance" and gave it an "A" rating. When he moved to Capitol Records with Highways and Dancehalls, noted music critic Rich Kienzle pointed to Ty's "traditional integrity" and called the record "magnificent."

Biographies

U.S. Representative Mary Fallin

Congresswoman Mary Fallin represents the Fifth District of Oklahoma, which includes most of Oklahoma County and all of Pottawatomie and Seminole Counties. This is her second term and she is the first woman to represent Oklahoma in Congress since 1920. Fallin currently serves on the Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure, the Committee on Armed Services and the Committee on Small Business. Fallin served as Oklahoma Lieutenant Governor from 1995 to 2006. She is a graduate of Tecumseh High School, attended Oklahoma Baptist University and holds a degree from Oklahoma State University.

Shannon Ferrell, J.D.

Shannon is an Assistant Professor in the OSU Department of Agricultural Economics where he teaches Agricultural Law and serves as an Extension Economist in the Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service assisting Oklahoma landowners with energy issues. Raised on a wheat and cattle operation near Leedey, Oklahoma, he obtained his Bachelors and Masters degrees in Agricultural Economics from OSU and obtained his Juris Doctorate from the Oklahoma City University School of Law. Ferrell spent a number of years in private practice focusing on environmental, energy and corporate law. He served as president of the Oklahoma Renewable Energy Council in 2006 and helped establish the Hall Estill firm's Renewable Energy Practice Group before joining OSU in the summer of 2007.

Ron Hays

Ron Hays, Director of Farm Programming, Radio Oklahoma Network of Griffin Communications is in his fourth year with the Network. He is the Dean of Farm Broadcasters in the South Central U.S. - and has been recognized for serving farmers and ranchers in Oklahoma and surrounding states for more than thirty five years. He is a past president and broadcaster of the year of the National Association of Farm Broadcasters and has won the prestigious Oscars in Agriculture three times along with being inducted into the Oklahoma Broadcasters Hall of Fame, the first full time farm broadcaster to receive that honor. In addition to daily radio reports he also writes and sends a daily E-Mail that goes to some 2700 key agricultural leaders each morning and hosts a Saturday morning TV segment on KWTW.

Roger Johnson

Roger Johnson was elected National Farmers Union president March, 2009. Prior to leading the farm organization, Johnson, a third-generation family farmer from Turtle Lake, N.D., served as North Dakota Agriculture Commissioner, a position he was first elected to in 1996. While Commissioner, he served as president of the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture (NASDA). As NASDA president, he played a key role in crafting the 2008 Farm Bill, pressing for a permanent disaster program, ending the ban on interstate shipment of state-inspected meat, the re-balancing of loan rates for program crops and farm-based renewable energy. Johnson grew up in Farmers Union, participating in the organization's youth programs, serving as a county president and chairman of the board of a local Farmers Union cooperative. He graduated with a degree in agricultural economics.

Senator Ron Justice

Oklahoma State Senator Ron Justice was elected to office in 2004 for District 23 which represents Blaine, Caddo, Canadian and Grady Counties. Justice Chairs the Agriculture and Rural Development Committee and serves as Vice Chair for the Appropriations Subcommittee on Natural Resources and Regulatory Services. He also serves on the Tourism and Wildlife and Transportation committees. He received his bachelor's degree and Masters from Oklahoma State University. Justice is a retired OSU County Extension Agent. Active in his church, community and civic organizations and agriculture associations, few people exemplify a community leader like Senator Justice.

Biographies

U.S. Representative Frank Lucas

Congressman Frank Lucas is a fifth generation Oklahoman whose family has lived and farmed in Oklahoma for over 100 years. Lucas graduated from Oklahoma State University with an Agricultural Economics degree. First elected to the United States House of Representatives in a special election in 1994, he is now serving his ninth term as a Member of Congress. Prior to service in Congress, Lucas served in the Oklahoma Legislature. He represents the Third Congressional District consisting of all or portions of 32 counties in northern and western Oklahoma which is almost half of the state's land mass and is one of the largest agricultural regions in the nation. Lucas serves as the Ranking Member of the House Agriculture Committee and previously served as Subcommittee chairman for conservation programs. He and his family continue to actively farm and ranch in Roger Mills County.

Gary McManus

Gary joined the Oklahoma Climatological Survey in May 1999 and currently serves as the Associate State Climatologist for Oklahoma. His tasks are focused on providing the citizens and decision-makers of Oklahoma with vital and timely weather information, as well as assessing the past weather conditions for the state. McManus is editor in chief of Oklahoma's Monthly and Seasonal Climate Summaries, and was the lead author of OCS' Statement on Climate Change. He has done extensive research cataloguing Oklahoma's weather hazards. A native of Buffalo, Oklahoma, McManus earned his B.S. and M.S. degrees in Meteorology from the University of Oklahoma.

Mason Mungle

Mason Mungle became President of Farmers Royalty Company in July 2007. Farmers Royalty Company was first established in 1929 as Farmers Union Cooperative Royalty Company that was comprised of participating mineral owners. Prior to this Mungle served as Director of Legislative Affairs for Oklahoma Farmers Union and Executive Director of the Oklahoma Conservation
