HOLISTIC MANAGEMENT THREE-DAY COURSE

The time has arrived!

If there was ever a year that had producers questioning their decision-making skills, it would be 2011. This Holistic Management Course will enable you to better arrive at those important day-to-day decisions. This intense three-day workshop being held at the beautiful Lied Lodge will ensure your operation is on the path to success!

For those who attended the overwhelmingly successful January 2011 AIM in Salina, Kansas featuring Josh Dukart and one of his producers, Gabe Brown of North Dakota, you already realize the value of this event.

Josh has developed this workshop to specifically give you the tools to succeed.

Make no mistake, this will be very in-depth and perhaps even life-changing!

Make sure that you act now as space is extremely limited for this event.

Be sure to take advantage and involve your spouse, farm partners, and employees to get the most out of this course. Attending could be the best decision you make in 2011!

Talk about value! Here's what's included in your package:

- 3 enlightening full-day sessions the typical AIM Symposium costs up to $250 PER DAY
- Superior networking opportunities
- ALL class materials
 - Holistic Management Textbook and Handbook (one set per operation/family)
 - Three-ring binder loaded with course information (all attendees)
- Breakfast on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday
- Lunch on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday
- Morning and afternoon break-time food and drinks dinner is on your own*
- ONE double-occupancy room at the Lied Lodge on November 15 & 16
 - Queen-size beds, unique lodge atmosphere in a beautiful and relaxing settingIf your operation requires additional lodging, rooms can be purchased for $110 single and $120 double.*

Due to the nature of this event, we ask that no children under the age of 14 attend any of the program.*

Joshua Dukart is a Certified Educator of Holistic Management. He lives out his personal beliefs and manages his professional life under the umbrella of Holistic Decision-Making. His aim is for sustainable balance of people, finances, and land. Joshua Dukart is also a member of the Burleigh County Soil Conservation District team in Bismarck, North Dakota, working with producers on planned grazing, biologically diverse cropping management, and integration of cover crops. In addition, he serves as Field Representative for the North Dakota Grazing Lands Coalition by providing assistance for farm & ranch planning, land monitoring, and coordinating information & education activities throughout the state. He is currently involved in management of Dukart Farms near Hazen, North Dakota, which consists of cow-calf, equine, stocker, and forage crop enterprises. This family ranch focuses on regenerative land management through enhancement of soil health. Joshua has the good fortune of working with some of the most innovative and progressive producers in the United States and Canada. His travels have afforded him the opportunity to observe and learn from some of the best holistic educators and practitioners in the world. With his experiences and continued learning on the land, his consulting business has evolved to work with producers and organizations in assisting them in achieving their optimal triple bottom line. Joshua also speaks and teaches regularly throughout the United States and Canada. Joshua's service activities place importance on helping individuals, families, and businesses achieve their desired quality of life and develop profitable enterprises, all while creating their preferred landscape. Joshua Dukart considers himself not only a practitioner, but also a facilitator of Holistic Management. His combination of enthusiasm and deep thinking will challenge your paradigms, yet help you develop confidence in holistic decision-making. His current ranching involvement provides hands-on experience in the integration of people and their resources. Through this application and his travels for consulting and personal education, he is able to share real-life examples of Holistic Management in action.
